

ACS Division of Polymer Chemistry Industrial Advisory Board

Purpose:

Strategic amplification of the ACS Division of Polymer Chemistry's (POLY's) industrial voice in programming, education and award recognition

Mission:

Programming

- Provide strategic recommendations to the ACS POLY on future programming topics

Education

- Structure future educational initiatives relative to industrial hiring & continuing education
- Lead the polymer community through funding of K-12 educational programs Intersociety Polymer Education Council (IPEC)
- Participate in PolyEd - The national information center for polymer education

Awards

- Provide direction for future and current industrial awards
- Foster graduate student involvement (through travel and presentation awards)
- Support undergraduate symposia at national meetings (presentation awards)
- Reward outstanding industrial polymer scientists (Industrial Polymer Scientist Award)

Benefits:

- Increased visibility within the polymer community, particularly in the USA
- Increased ability to scout and recruit talent
- Increased knowledge of what is on the forefront of polymer science & collaborative research
- Advanced notice of symposia topics
- Involvement in the development of scientific presentations at pertinent symposia
- Corporate logos are displayed on ACS meeting posters, the POLY Newsletter & at sponsored events

Next Board meeting: Tuesday, Aug 30, 2011 - Denver Sheraton

Board dues: $1000/year

Board Officers: Co-Chairman: Travis Baughman (DSM, travis.baughman@dsm.com)

Co-Chairman: Diana Gerbi (3M Company, djgerbi@mmm.com)

Current Members:

3M	Johnson & Johnson
Archer Daniels Midland	JohnsonDiversey
Arkema Group	Kimberly-Clark
BASF	PPG Industries
Bayer Corporation	Raychem/Tyco
The Dow Chemical Company	Rochal Industries
DSM	United Technologies Research Center
Eastman Chemical Company	Wyatt Technology Corporation
Eastman Kodak	